K'NEX Events Seeks Presenters to Facilitate Hands On Learning *Flexible Positions, Unlimited Earnings Available for Independent Contractors

Hatfield, PA – K'NEX Brands, creator of the next generation of construction toys now has flexible work opportunities available for K'NEX Events Presenters.

K'NEX Events Presenters are independent contractors who facilitate K'NEX and KID K'NEX building programs using sets specially designed for fun and learning. The K'NEX Events kits contain everything needed for an exciting and fun group activity for up to 30 kids. K'NEX provides marketing, training materials and support to help presenters achieve success. Each presenter's income is based on the number of presentations he or she conducts. Presentations are often conducted at schools, summer camps, and children's parties.

The K'NEX Events Presenters have the opportunity to run their own businesses and set their own hours while working with an established brand and family owned company. While presenters can come from any walk of life many have previous teaching experience and/or are parents looking to provide programs in their community. In addition to the benefits of building a business and utilizing flexible work hours K'NEX Events Presenters enjoy the job satisfaction of watching kids learn and grow in confidence.

To learn more about the K'NEX Events Presenter program go to <http://www.knexevents.com/become-presenter.php>. To be considered as an independent contractor, candidates must have the ability to learn the materials, have their own transportation, be motivated to build a customer base, be reliable and trustworthy and pass a security background screen. Prospective K'NEX Events Presenters must also be able to provide personal and professional references. To be considered for this independent contractor opportunity, candidates should contact employment@knex.com and reference the job code KXEVENT.
